SYNTHETIC RISK REWARD INDICATOR

Equity and property investments are volatile by nature and subject to potential capital loss. For credit and income instruments, while unlikely, capital loss may also occur due to an event like the default of an issuer. For full details of risks, please refer to the risk section in the Prospectus and KIID.

FUND OBJECTIVE

The Balanced MultiFund aims to provide moderate levels of growth with moderate levels of risk and volatility over the medium to longer-term.

The Sub-Fund is actively managed and is not managed in reference to any benchmark. It is managed by reference to a performance target which is to outperform USD 3M SOFR +1% to 3% over a minimum three years.

SUITABILITY & RISK AND REWARD

The Balanced MultiFund is suitable for clients with an investment time horizon of a minimum 3 years. Investing in the fund involves a risk to capital in order to achieve the desired return.

To achieve the investment objective, the portfolio invests across a range of asset classes within a strategic and tactical asset allocation framework designed to maximise diversification benefits. An absolute and relative valuation-based approach underpins this framework, resulting in a multilayered process to facilitate disciplined decision-making and risk management.

Portfolio construction combines exposures to active fund managers, who are expected to outperform their defined benchmarks and passive investment vehicles which provide low cost access to markets. This blend of active and passive funds is used to create a competitively priced investment solution.

**Cash performance indicators calculated using USD and GBP LIBID 3 month figures to 31st January 2022. From 1st February transitioned to using 3mo SOFR for USD and 3mo SONIA for GBP.

1) The annualised total return is the average return earned by an investment each year over a given time period. Performance is calculated for the portfolio and individual investment performance may differ as a result of initial fees, the actual investment, the actual investment date, the date of any reinvestment and dividend withholding tax. Data source Nedgroup Investments (IOM) Limited.
2) The on-going fee is a measure of the actual expenses incurred in the management of the Classes of the Sub-Fund. The on-going fee shown is expressed as a percentage of the monthly average value of the portfolio calculated over a 12-month period as at the date shown. The current on-going fee cannot be used as an indication of future on-going fees. A higher on-going fee does not necessarily imply a poor return, nor does a low on-going fee imply a good return.

KEY RISKS

- The Fund could lose money if a counterparty with which the Fund trades becomes unwilling or unable to meet its obligations, or as a result of failure or delay in operational processes or the failure of a third party provider.
- Shares can lose value rapidly, and typically involve higher risks than bonds or money market instruments. The value of your investment may fall as a result.
- The Fund invests in other funds (including exchange traded funds and investment trusts/companies), which may introduce more risky assets, derivative usage and other risks, as well as contributing to a higher level of ongoing charges.
- The Fund may use derivatives with the aim of reducing risk or managing the portfolio more efficiently. However this introduces other risks, in particular, that a derivative counterparty may not meet its contractual obligations.
- If the Fund holds assets in currencies other than the base currency of the Fund or you invest in a share class of a different currency to the Fund (unless 'hedged'), the value of your investment may be impacted by changes in exchange rates.
- Securities within the Fund could become hard to value or to sell at a desired time and price, especially in extreme market conditions when asset prices may be falling, increasing the risk of investment losses.
- The value of an investment and the income from it can fall as well as rise and you may not get back the amount originally invested.
- Tax assumptions and reliefs depend upon an investor's particular circumstances and may be subject to change.

MARKET COMMENTARY

In October, financial markets experienced a period of increased volatility driven by geopolitical tensions, rising bond yields and political upheaval in the US. Starting first with recent geopolitical developments and concerns in the Middle East moved into the spotlight after a significant escalation of the Israel – Gaza conflict saw Hamas gunmen launch a shocking assault on Israel, resulting in tragic casualties and the taking of hostages. In response, Israel have carried out retaliatory strikes on Gaza, further intensifying the situation. Given the regions crucial role in the production of oil, the conflict has fuelled some inflationary concerns, however the broader impact on financial markets has been fairly muted thus far.

Over in the US, bond markets have been very much in focus with the economy's strength, hawkish central bank rhetoric, bubbling concerns over US fiscal matters and the Federal Reserve's continued commitment to reducing its bond holdings having the effect of pushing long term US bonds yields up to around 5% intra-month. This trend higher in yields had broad-reaching effects on various asset classes, affecting investor sentiment and risk appetite. Political tensions also came to the fore, as the US House of Representatives voted to remove Speaker Kevin McCarthy from his position, the first such ousting in US history. After weeks of infighting and a mid-November government shutdown looming, Mike Johnson was elected as McCarthy's replacement which helped avert further disruption. Elsewhere, growth concerns increased in Europe on the back of continued weaknesses in economic survey data. There was, however, a degree of respite, with Eurozone inflation falling to its lowest level in more than two years, allowing the European Central Bank the chance to hold rates steady, ending a run of 10 consecutive increases.

In terms of market returns, global financial markets exhibited weak performance during October. Global equities declined by -2.7%, with Asia ex-Japan (-3.6%), UK (-3.6%) and Emerging Markets (-3.6%) experiencing the worst of the declines. In the US, equities fared relatively better with a decline of -2.3%, but the softness in equity markets was widespread. In terms of equity styles, growth stocks (-2.6%) outperformed value (-3.4%), and small-cap stocks (-5.9%) underperformed Large Caps (-2.7%). This was reflected in the mixed sector performance, with Consumer Discretionary (-4.8%), Industrials (-4.4%), and Energy (-4.2%) among the hardest-hit sectors, whilst Utilities (0.2%) demonstrated a degree of resilience.

Within fixed income markets, returns were also disappointing. Looking at the detail, global government bonds (-0.4%) outperformed on a relative basis despite the volatility seen across sovereign yield curves. Global investment grade credit (-1.0%) was an area of relative weakness as spreads widened, as was the riskier global high yield (-1.0%) and global emerging market debt (-1.5%).

In the real assets space, both Global Real Estate (-4.8%) and Global Infrastructure (-3.2%) followed the downward trajectory of equity markets, reflecting their sensitivity to rising interest rates. Commodities displayed mixed performance in the month. While the broad index remained relatively flat (0.3%), there was significant divergence within the index. Crude Oil (-7.7%) fell back from the September highs punctuated by OPEC+ supply cuts whereas Gold (+7.4%) rallied, given heightened geopolitical concerns.

PORTFOLIO COMMENTARY

The Nedgroup Investments Balanced MultiFund faced a challenging month in October, given heightened volatility in global markets. The fund posted a return of -2.9% for the USD share class and -2.7% for the GBP share class, the difference reflecting dollar strength over the period.

Within equities, Dodge & Cox Global Stock Fund (-5.3%) and TT Emerging Markets Equity Fund (-5.9%) underperformed due to their exposure to the energy sector and Emerging markets respectively. Fundsmith Equity Fund (-2.4%) and Morgan Stanley Global Brands (-2.6%) were able to outperform on a relative basis given their more defensive bias.

Fixed income holdings were mixed over October. The longer-duration iShares $ Treasury Bond 7-10yr ETF (-1.8%) and Vanguard US Government Bond Index Fund (-1.2%) underperformed the shorter-duration iShares $ Treasury

Bond 1-3yr UCITS ETF (+0.3%) given increased pressures from rising yields. In the investment-grade bond segment, our short-maturity Lord Abbett Short Duration Income Fund and PIMCO Low Duration Global IG Credit showed a degree of resilience, with positive returns of +0.1% each. Meanwhile, the longer-dated PIMCO Global IG Credit (-1.1%) underperformed.

Within our real asset holdings, the property sector was quite variable. While Nedgroup Global Property Fund (-3.1%) and Target Healthcare REIT (-4.9%) followed equity markets lower, Impact Healthcare REIT fared better, returning -0.3% on the back of strong interim results. Renewable energy holdings faced challenges, with Greencoat UK Wind (-3.5%), JLEN Environmental Assets Group (-12.9%), Greencoat Renewables (-9.9%) and The Renewable Infrastructure Group (-5.6%) negatively impacted by the higher yields seen over the month. Meanwhile, traditional infrastructure players like 3i Infrastructure (-1.8%) and Atlas Global Infrastructure (-1.5%) managed to avoid the worst of the declines. Finally, Gold, represented by WisdomTree Core Physical Gold ETC (+7.3%), showed resilience amidst current geopolitical tensions in the Middle East.

Within alternatives, our private equity holdings, Oakley Capital Investments (-6.3%) and Princess Private Equity (-8.5%), disappointed, as did our energy efficiency holdings, with Gore Street Energy Storage Fund and Gresham House Energy Storage Fund returning -15.0% and -20.1%, respectively. The decline for the two energy storage funds comes after a fall in revenues within the sector, due to a reduction in energy market volatility. We however remain confident that over the long term, energy storage will be a key enabler for carbon neutrality and expect growth to be resilient.

October was an eventful month for Hipgnosis Songs Fund (-12.1%) which concluded with their AGM on 26th October. The focus here was a vote on whether the company should continue to operate (a Continuation Vote) in its current form. The so-called Continuation Resolution is a normal part of investment trust prospectuses as it gives shareholders the power to implement change (after a period of say 5 years) if they are not happy with the direction, which may or may not mean winding down the company or changing the asset manager. Knowing that this vote is imminent, the manager of Hipgnosis put together the recent proposed asset sale of 20% of the portfolio to Hipgnosis Songs Capital, a private fund (owned by Blackstone), with the aim of paying down debt and buying back shares to try to reduce the discount to NAV. The whole situation with the asset manager and board has been very disappointing, particularly given the strengths of the asset class, and the trapped value shown by the recent purchase of Round Hill Music Royalty Fund for a price much closer to NAV. After engaging with the manager and board we decided to vote against the continuation vote and against the proposed asset sale. We also voted against a number of board members who we believe have failed to act in the best interest of shareholders. Our view was shared with that of over 80% of shareholders who voted in the same way as we did, meaning the newly constructed board will have 6 months to complete their strategic review and propose next steps, which as mentioned, could include winding up the trust, or changing the asset manager. Rest assured we remain confident the underlying assets will deliver strong returns for clients over the medium term, and we will be engaging closely with the board to ensure that the best possible outcome for shareholders is achieved.

Finally, over the month, we undertook some minor portfolio adjustments. We rebalanced some of our positions back to target to ensure alignment with our long-term investment goals. In addition, we increased our exposure to the iShares Core UK Gilts due to attractive valuations and in anticipation of slower growth in the UK.
